VOL. XXVI.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1897.

NO. 36

Middleburg, Casey Co.

J. H. Allen will teach the Turkey Knob school.

A delightful social was given at J. C. Coulter's Saturday night.

Blackberries will soon be ripe and the Casey crop is flattering.

The M. E. district conference will be held at this place August 3-6.

Wheat harvest is at hand. The Casey crop is better than common.

The recent showers have brought the oats out. The dry spell cut the oats crop short.

Dave Allen bought of George Wesley a bunch of lambs at 3c. He promised John Wheat 5c for his two weeks ago.

The grave of Col. Silas Adams, the ex-Congressman, will be decorated next Saturday. Prominent speakers will be on hand.

The Casey County Institute will convene at Liberty, July 5. Prof. J. C. Willis, of Bowling Green, will conduct the meeting.

Elder Z. T. Sweeney, of Columbus, Ind., prominently spoken of as a candidate to succeed the late Judge Holman, was a Casey product.

The Masons gave a picnic at Phil Thursday. A large crowd was on hand. Plenty to eat. In order to catch suckers P. W. Hardin and George Denny were advertised to speak.

Miss Emerline Lapsley, formerly of Janie Wash Institute, is an announced candidate for school superintendent of Russell county on the democratic ticket, and here's wishing she'll get it.

This is no lie. Dick Carter killed a snake on the widow Conner's place a few days ago, which had two distinct legs and feet with white, hard toenails. He showed it to nearly every man in Yosemite.

Miss Sarah Bastain, daughter of Mr. John Bastain, living on Knob Lick, died last week of consumption. This makes three deaths in the same family of the same malady in less than two years. The three were unmarried daughters.

Your scribe will leave Thursday, July 1, for Lexington to attend the Chautauqua. Rev. D. Edgar Fogle, who has been attending school in Chicago, returned home Wednesday. Preston Fogle, who has been attending a law school at Ann Arbor, Mich., returned home Saturday.

The Methodist parsonage burned to the ground early Monday morning. It is not known just exactly how it caught. Only hard work saved the house occupied by Mr. James Gann, which caught three times. Several locusts trees saved the Baptist church. Rev. F. L. Creech occupied the house. Nothing out of the dining room and kitchen was saved. Loss estimated at $900; no insurance.

BRODHEAD.

Born, to the wife of W. C. Cable, on the 28th, a girl.

Dr. Clark's store building near the depot is nearing completion.

The Mt. Vernon Cornet Band will help furnish music for the picnic July 3rd.

Mr. James Maret, the efficient editor of the Mt. Vernon Signal, was with us Monday. W. H. Pettus is now night operator here.

There will be a big picnic at fair grounds Saturday, July 3rd. Speech-making, racing, music, &c., will be the order of the day.

Mr. O. V. Jarrett, who has been connected with the Royer Wheel Co. for several years, is enjoying the smiles of his best girl this week.

A dispatch from Kansas states that little Maree Adams, who was visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Hutchinson, last month, died at her home Tuesday.

The Fair Company people are overhauling their track and taking out some of the shortest curves. Everything possible will be done to make it the best fair in the mountains this year.

A. E. Albright, W. A. Tyree and W. H. Collier have purchased a lot of T. S. Frith and will erect one or two buildings at once. After cleaning out an old well on the ground natural gas was noticed. They touched a match and it burned fully five minutes.

Messrs. Egbert and Jacob Wallin, connected with the Wrought Iron Range Company, of St. Louis, Mo., are visiting home folks this week. Mrs. W. E. Perkins, of Crab Orchard, was the guest of Mrs. Protheroe Tuesday. The box supper at the Methodist church Thursday night was a success.

Miss Allie O'Brien, who sued the Trinity & Sabine railroad for $20,000 damages because a dog bit her in the defendant's depot, was awarded $10,000 at Woodville, Tex.

Lt. Gov. Worthington has granted a request signed by the circuit judge, Commonwealth's attorney and sheriff of Barren county, that troops be sent to Bowling Green to accompany the Negro Tol Stone to Glasgow. Stone assaulted a young school teacher and has been at Bowling Green for safe keeping.

MATRIMONIAL.

Frank Oaks, aged 80, and Mrs. Maria Jennings, 62 and three times a widow, were married at Cairo, Ill.

At Memphis, Wah Lee, a wealthy Chinese merchant of Jonestown, Miss., married Mary H. Harper, a comely mulatto girl. The groom is worth $60,000.

There was a double marriage at John Lay's Tuesday when William Stratton, 21, and Miss Sarah Lay, 17, and Jesse T. Lay, 19, and Miss Maggie Stratton, 20, were joined in wedlock's holy bonds.

A. N. Wells, of Shelby City, writes us that he was married at Joliet, Ill., this week to Miss Ada Stephens Becker, daughter of W. W. Becker, editor of the Joliet Record. They will return to Shelby City about July 4.

Stewart Ford, son of the proprietor of Ford's Hotel, Richmond, Va., has brought suit for divorce against his wife, who was a daughter of Rev. Sam Small. When Ford married her she was Mrs. Jackson, and had been divorced from her husband at Knoxville, Tenn.

Charles Hubbard, of Martinsville, Ind., and Miss Maggie Caldwell were married Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. H. Caldwell, in Boyle, the Rev. Joe W. Caldwell, of West Point, Miss., officiating. The couple left at once for Martinsville.

Wm. Robertson was married to Miss Cynthia Kenna, a beautiful belle of Chattanooga. The ceremony took place in the basket of a balloon, and as soon as the preacher spoke the words that made them man and wife the ropes were cut and the couple started on a bridal tour through midair. At the height of 100 feet the bride got frightened and jumped out, landing in the Tennessee river, from which she was rescued by boatmen.

A handsome affair was the marriage at the Christian church in Richmond Tuesday, of Lieut. Carlo Britton, of the U. S. Navy, and Miss Mayme Elizabeth Collins Baldwin, daughter of Col. Thomas E. Baldwin, a wealthy farmer and stock raiser, and a sister of Mrs. W. H. Shanks, of this place. The church decorations were elaborate.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. R. Lloyd. There were 14 attendants as follows: Lieuts. Jones and Knepper, of the Navy, John B. Chapman, C. K. Shackelford, Tom Collins, T. J. Moberly, W. S. Hume, of Richmond; Misses Lou Beall, Wellsburg, Pa., Minnie Grubbs, Mt. Sterling; Lida Burgess, Maysville; Lila Chenault, Marie Willesmith, Minerva Park Phelps and Ollie Baldwin, of Richmond, the last being a sister of the bride and her maid of honor. A reception followed at the bride's home. It was attended by about 200 guests. After a brief sojourn Lieut. Britton and wife will go to Annapolis, where he will occupy the chair of mathematics in the Naval Academy.

At the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Beers, on North Union street at 1 P. M., Wednesday, occurred the happy marriage of Miss Leila Beers to Rev. George H. Turner, of Danville, Ky. It was of a quiet nature, only a few friends and relatives being present. Wilbur Gullett acted in the capacity of pianist, playing the sweetest strains of the wedding march. Rev. C. B. Taylor, of the M. E. church, performed the ceremony. Miss Beers is a graduate of Lincoln University, having completed the course this year in both the literature and musical departments. She is known as a devout church and Y. W. C. A. worker and cannot fail to make the need of her services as a minister's wife felt. Rev. Turner is a cousin of Pres. A. E. Turner, of this city. He attended school at Lincoln University for a while at which time he became acquainted with his bride. At present he is living near Danville, Ky., where he has charge of three Cumberland Presbyterian churches. The best wishes are entertained for the newly married couple by their host of friends. The marriage ceremony was followed by an elegant repast, after which the bride and groom took their departure on the afternoon train for Taylorsville, where they will spend a few days. They will return to Lincoln next Monday and remain until Friday, when the final good-bye will be said previous to their departure for their future home in Danville, Ky. Lincoln, Ill., Daily News.

BRIGHT-MCALISTER.—Promptly at high noon Wednesday Mr. H. R. Bright, of Mt. Sterling, and Mrs. Lizzie Portman McAlister, of this place, were united in matrimony at her pretty home on East Main Street. Eld. J. T. Sharrard officiated and Mrs. James P. Bailey played in sweetest strains "Call Me Thine Own." The wedding was a very simple affair, there being no attendants and only immediate friends of the family present. The bride was attired in a handsome blue tailor made suit, with hat to match and never looked prettier than when leaning on the arm of the man of her choice. She is a charming little woman and he who has won her has every right to feel proud. That she will make him a true helpmeet in every sense of the word, there can be no doubt. The groom, who is circuit clerk of his county and a licensed lawyer, is well recommended and his appearance and deportment while here indicate him to be a gentleman in all that the word implies. He is a splendid specimen of manhood and a handsomer pair than he and his lovely wife would be hard to find. After the ceremony a lunch was enjoyed at her mother's after which Mr. and Mrs. Bright left for Louisville, where, after spending a few days they will go to Olympia Springs. Until September 1st they will live at Mr. Bright's home but will then go to Spindell.

I have taken my Summer outing by spending seven hours at Dripping Springs in company with a number of friends. I had a delightful time and found much improved in health.

Farmers being busy, there was a small crowd in town Monday. Among the number from your county were R. C. Warren, J. B. Paxton, Josh Swope, E. C. Walton, J. T. O'Hair and F. W.

Spindell.

Mr. Rice Benge, well known in the livery business, has rented Judge Walker's stable at $600 a year for two years, with the privilege of five years.

He has also purchased the stock and vehicles and has taken possession.

The oratorical contest Tuesday night was well attended and the speakers showed a high degree of culture in the magic art.

The prize was awarded to Mr. D. Curry, of Harrodsburg, the contest being close between him, James Saufley and Ashbrook Frank.

Several other candidates for the offices for which nominations were not made, will present their claims to the democratic committee July 8, when some good men will be put in the field, making an invincible ticket. Let us have no primary and all will be well.

The sales of property for taxes made by Sheriff T. B. Robinson amounted to about $2,000, the sheriff being the principal purchaser. Capt. I. M. Dunn sold six shares of National Bank stock at $100 per share. Rice Benge sold several plug horses at $4 to $10; a bunch of yearling steers at $18.50 per head and milk cows at $25.

A female tramp, claiming Covington as her home and Maggie Bennett as her name, was put in the lock up on Saturday night for disorderly conduct.

John S. Goode, one of our up-to-date farmers, has laid by a 40-acre field of corn, fully half of which he tells us is seven feet high and tasseling. Who can beat it?

The residence of Tom Rynierson, near Powars, was struck by lightning recently and the building considerably shattered. The heavy rains prevented its being burned.

The officers of the fair company have agreed to hold another meeting Saturday next at 2 P. M. to decide matters vastly important to the association. Everybody interested, especially invited.

The eminent divine, Rev. Martin Luther, of Chicago, will preach at the Presbyterian church here on next Sunday morning and night. This announcement is fully sufficient to fill the church to its utmost capacity. He is a very earnest, able and magnetic speaker.

Major Sampson Jones, of Mt. Salem, died Tuesday morning at 4 A. M. after a short illness of lung trouble. He was a successful farmer, a devout member of the Baptist church and a neighbor whose memory will be cherished by the coming generation. A faithful and loving husband and a father without a fault. A heart-broken wife and two daughters, Mrs. Bailey Hill and Mrs. G. D. McCarty, are left to mourn the vacant chair that never can be filled.

Ed C. Hopper, secretary of Latonia, is spending a few days here with friends and relatives. Miss Dollie B. Williams, the accomplished pianist, has gone to the Ky. Chautauqua at Lexington to fill a 10 days' engagement. Miss Dollie is a complete master of the art evidenced by the numerous offers of the most prominent managers and professors. Legions of friends and admirers will be attracted to the Chautauqua by the announcement of her engagement as pianist.

The wheat harvest in this section is over and stacking is being vigorously pushed for fear of a repetition of last season's damp experience. We note a very decided unwillingness on the part of the farmers to sell at the present prices offered and many will hold their crops awaiting the fulfillment of those sacred promises of prosperity. Our McKinley democratic (?) farmer will be pleased stand up: Now, why does the raiser of export cattle get less for them this year with an advance of over three-quarters of a cent per pound for live cattle in Liverpool over last year's price there? How long will it take the American farmer to see some of the benefits (?) of a single gold standard.

An association has been formed at Indianapolis to care for the grave of Nancy Hanks, the mother of Abraham Lincoln.

John Wilson, a wealthy citizen of Clay county, was found dead near Manchester, having been shot from ambush by unknown parties.

A few years ago Wilson was arrested and tried for the murder of Garrard Baker, of Manchester, but was acquitted by the courts after a long drawn out trial. The evidence was conclusive in his favor.

LANCASTER.

Mr. J. E. Bell, of Hartford City, Ind., is visiting Capt. Louis Landram and wife and relatives.

Mrs. S. D. Rothwell will spread a dinner at the Fair for those who do not have dinner. The price will be reasonable and everybody knows it will be worth the money.

I have taken my Summer outing by spending seven hours at Dripping Springs in company with a number of friends.

I had a delightful time and found much improved in health.

Farmers being busy, there was a small crowd in town Monday. Among the number from your county were R. C. Warren, J. B. Paxton, Josh Swope, E. C. Walton, J. T. O'Hair and F. W.

THE TENNESSEE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

WHILE in Nashville last week we went by instructions from the board of trustees of the Kentucky Houses of Reform to the Tennessee Industrial School, to examine into the detail of its management and the construction of the buildings. Stating our mission, we were very cordially received by Supt. W. C. Kilvington, who, to use a hackneyed expression, is apparently the right man in the right place. He has been in charge of such institutions for 30-odd years and being a lover of children and a humanitarian in its strictest sense, he is enabled to do a grand work in the rescue of immortal souls from degradation and destruction. The institution is located several miles out of the city on a farm of 75 acres, whose natural beauty has been greatly enhanced by Mr. Kilvington, who began life as a landscape artist and who has used his talent in that line to good effect. In the construction of the buildings there has been no effort at display. They are handsome, however, but convenience and adaptability were considered more than outside display. The administration building is an imposing brick structure, every room of which is used to the best advantage. The boys eat and sleep near it and in another building several hundred yards distant the girls find place for school, sleeping departments and dining rooms. As there are now 700 children in the institution, it will be seen that a good deal of room is required.

The children have to study 4 hours a day and work the same length of time. Twenty-seven occupations are taught from blacksmithing and shoemaking to telegraphy, stenography and typewriting. There is also a printing office and a neat little paper is gotten out weekly by and for the benefit of the children. "Boys," said Mr. Kilvington, "this gentleman has come all the way from Kentucky to see you, can't you give him a serenade?" In a twinkling, 25 or 30 boys with brass instruments formed a band and gave "Dixie" and several other popular and inspiring airs with the excellence almost of experts. The girls, several hundred of them, were in school when we looked in on them and in response to the superintendent's request sang "Tennessee" for us very enthusiastically. The children, and grown ones too, love Mr. Kilvington as a father and he treats them as if each was his child. He has a wonderful influence over them and the good the institution is doing is shown in the fact that of the 900 sent out from it only 12 have turned out badly. The rest are making good citizens and earning honest livings.

The arrangement of the buildings and the sanitary precautions are of the most approved designs and methods. There is never any sickness of consequence there and the children all look healthy and strong. Mr. Kilvington tells us that by a law of the State children who commit certain offenses are sent to the School without trial and without sentence, thereby doing away with the stigma that such a proceeding would place upon them. He also tells us that no precaution is taken to prevent escapes and that a child rarely ever runs away, always returning if he does. He has no trouble at all from the proximity of the boys and girls and says that it is much better as he has it arranged than if they were separated by many miles. They are not allowed to mingle, though they meet together once a week in divine services.

It is wonderful how this family of over 700, for it is more like a family than a semi-penal institution, is ruled by kindness and love. Mr. K. always greets the children with a pleasant word and it seems to give them real pleasure to have him notice them. He and his excellent wife seem to have been born for the splendid work they are doing and if the Kentucky commissioners are able to secure officers half as capable they may consider themselves lucky.

The Tennessee Industrial School is a model in every way and its superintendent a model officer and Christian gentleman, and the State will be many times repaid by our visit.

The Ohio democratic State convention nominated Horace L. Chapman for governor. The silver republicans will put out a separate ticket and the populists will do likewise.

POLITICS

The Senate finance committee fixed the duty on coal at 67 cents per long ton.

Warren county republicans nominated Ben F. Gardner, a boorocrat, for county clerk.

The sentence of death imposed on Gen. Rivera, the Cuban leader, has been suspended.

The prohibitionists are preparing a memorial to the next Legislature to modify the local option laws.

Hon. Ed Porter Thompson has announced his candidacy for State superintendent of public instruction.

A review shows that Deboe has fared miserably in the pie raid at Washington, and the great man is very blue about it.

Secretary Gage has cheered the democrats in the treasury by announcing that he must be informed of all disbursements and reductions.

They are saying now in Washington that the balance of the Kentucky Collektors are held up to enable the president to consider the protest against Sapp.

The democrats and populists of Estill have fused. The democrats have named candidates for all the offices except county judge and school superintendent, the populists naming them.

Charges of incompetency against E. T. Franks, on top of the indictment against him at Frankfort, have caused a change in Senator Deboe's slate. Mr. T. J. Yandall, of Marion, who was slated for the chief deputyship under Franks, has instead been appointed collector at Owensboro and Franks will be his chief deputy.

H. B. Chamberlain, formerly of Denver, Colo., who died recently in England, made a failure of 36 branches of business before he started boom to Western real estate. He conducted his operations on such a large scale that when he died he owed $15,000,000.

Acting Governor Worthington has pardoned Jim Holt, of Russell county, who was sent up in 1892 for 21 years for manslaughter. Holt was tried and sentenced, and upon appeal to the higher court got a new trial. On the second trial he was given a 21 year sentence. The judge told him at the time if he would accept this verdict and not appeal, he (the judge) would endorse an application for pardon in five years. Holt took no appeal, and the governor and judge think he went to the penitentiary with the understanding that he was to remain but five years. Hence the pardon.

Mrs. Pauline Widmer and daughter, Miss Pauline, committed suicide together at Owensboro.

The Woodford fiscal court has purchased the last turnpike in the county and all roads are now free.

Robert Burton, of Garrard, sold to John C. Johnson, of Boyle, a bunch of 70-pound steers at $19.

John P. Gooch sold to Woods & Lynn a bunch of lambs at 4c. Two of them weighed 120 pounds each.

A yearling, a full brother to the great Henry of Navarre, brought $2.60 under the hammer in New York.

Woods & Lynn bought of Silas Anderson 90 lambs averaging 73 pounds at 4c and of William Gooch 90 76-pounders at the same price.

Doc Drye is working W. A. Tribble's Kate Mailoy and W. L. Evans' Huma, preparatory to taking in the fairs. It would be hard to find two finer saddle mares than these.

The man who said there would be no peaches this year evidently didn't know what he was saying. A lot of the finest ever seen here this early are already on the market.—Glasgow Times.

The most remarkable wheat crop ever known is now being harvested throughout East Tennessee. The season has been a perfect one, and the farmers had planted an unusually large crop. The output will be enormous.

George McRoberts sold to J. W. Bates 65 cattle at a little over 4c. They will weigh about 1,250. Elmwood Stock Farm, owned by Reuben Gentry, was offered at public sale last Saturday but was withdrawn at $59. The contending bidders were Richard Cobb, Jr., and L. W. Hudson.—Advocate.

R. F. Thaeer, of Anderson, raised 31 lambs from 22 ewes. Twenty-six of the lambs averaged 90 pounds when delivered last week. There were 175 cattle on the market Monday, none first class; 500 to 700 pound heifers brought 2c, and cows 2c. Sheep sold at $2.40 per cwt. and hogs $3.—Winchester Democrat.

The following officers of the Richmond fair, which will be held July 27-30, were elected at a meeting held a few days ago: John B. Chenault, president; S. A. Deatherage, secretary; J. S. Crutcher, treasurer; S. B. White, J. J. Neale and D. R. Tevis, vice presidents. Premiums and purses aggregating $6,000 will be offered.

Charley Barnes and Emmett Burton are up from Somerset with a bunch of cattle. George Wood has been on the pony list for a few days.

Maria Owsley's boy fell from a small tree a few days ago and broke his arm. Dr. Kinnaird was telephoned for and the arm set and the boy is now doing well.

Dr. O'Neal, of Lancaster, presented Mr. and Mrs. Mack Eubanks with a new girl Tuesday evening. The hands on the farm say Mack has been very cross for a few days.

To reduce stock before invoicing I will make very low prices on lumber and shingles for the next few days. A. C. Sine.

B. K. WEAREN & SON received yesterday for Myers Bros. a brand new traction engine and thresher of the most modern make.

TAXES.—Six per cent. will be added to your town taxes if not paid on or by July 1. Pay now before the penalty is added. O. J. Newland, marshal.

FREE.—Chance at an $85 music box, with every purchase of 25¢ worth of jewelry from our elegant line, or $1 worth of other goods. Tanner Bros., McKinney.

ARM BROKEN.—While teaching her playmate to ride horseback, little Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Gentry, fell from the horse, breaking one of her arms near the elbow.

NO one who visits Cincinnati and has the time should fail to go to the Zoological Gardens. It is full of rare beasts and birds and is a delightfully cool place to while away a few hours.

NOTICE.—W. J. Romans & Co., Lancaster, are closing out their large stock of buggies, surreys, phaetons and road wagons. You can save from $5 to $25 by buying anything you want in the vehicle line from them.

AT LAST.—Hon. John W. Yerkes, of Danville, has at last been appointed collector for this district. The question now disturbing the minds of the people, particularly of Madison, is, will the office be moved to Little Brittain?

REV. GEORGE O. BARNES' meeting at the court-house is drawing large crowds nightly, which drinks in every word the good evangelist utters. The meetings will continue until Monday night at least and probably longer.

THE weather since our last issue has been too hot to talk about. A shower falls now and then and cools the atmosphere for the time being, but it isn't long before old Sol comes out again with a vengeance. Showers and continued warm weather was yesterday's forecast.

THE Odd Fellows elected officers for ensuing term as follows: J. T. Terry, Noble Grand; G. T. Ashlock, Vice-Grand; A. C. Sine, Secretary; Peter Straub, Jr., Treasurer; J. T. Harris, Host; Wm. Daugherty, J. A. Allen and A. C. Sine, Trustees Widows and Orphans' Fund.

THE Knights of the Maccabees elected the following officers Monday night: Commander, R. M. Newland; Lt.-Commander, J. L. Totten; Record-Keeper, John H. Meier; Chaplain, John W. Watson; Sergeant, O. P. Huffman; Master at Arms, R. G. Jones; 1st Master of Guards, G. L. Penny; 2d Master of Guards, E. C. Walton; Sentinel, A. J. Earp; Picket, A. H. Severance.

THE assignments of the Commercial Building Trust Co. and the Columbia Loan & Saving Association, of Louisville, caught numerous Stanford people. J. S. Wells was agent for the former, but he had taken down his sign and gone to Danville when we went to interview him yesterday. George B. Cooper was the latter company's agent. There is only one stockholder in it—Mr. J. N. Menefee, who had made his last payment on several shares last week.

THE gross earnings of the First National Bank for the six months ending June 30, were $7,530, out of which were paid the taxes, expenses, the regular semi-annual dividend of three per cent. and $550 were carried to the surplus fund and $1,400 to undivided profits. The surplus fund, undivided profits and fund to pay losses now aggregate $20,020, as will be seen from the statement in another column.

The Farmers Bank & Trust Co. earned $9,010.05 during the six months ending Wednesday, which was disposed of as follows: Expenses $1,956.18, semi-annual dividend of three per cent. $6,000, fund to pay taxes $500, surplus fund, $553.87.

THE Farmers Bank & Trust Co. earned $9,010.05 during the six months ending Wednesday, which was disposed of as follows: Expenses $1,956.18, semi-annual dividend of three per cent. $6,000, fund to pay taxes $500, surplus fund, $553.87.

JOHNSON.—Sylus Johnson, son of Mr. W. H. Johnson, died at his home Wednesday afternoon of consumption, aged 23, and was buried in Buffalo Cemetery yesterday afternoon. He was rather wild until a few months ago but since that time he had wonderfully changed and when death came he was ready and willing to meet his Maker. He professed religion a few weeks since and when he was able he spent most of the time reading his Bible.

SPEAKING.—Hon. R. C. Warren will address the people of Lincoln county at the court-house county court day, July 12th, on free turnpikes and why the question should be re-submitted to the people at the November election in order to remove all doubts as to the validity of the last election and enable the fiscal court, if the bond issue carries, to sell the bonds of the county at a premium and not at a loss, and why every good citizen of the county should favor this course.

CIRCUIT COURT convened again Tuesday and since that time a number of civil cases of minor importance have been disposed of. The one in which most interest was manifested as well as in which considerable money was involved, was that of B. G. Gover against W. H. Lyon for hauling, in which the former sued for $500. The jury gave him $200 and a lot of lumber, which Mr. Gover already had in his possession. The case of W. H. Kinnaird against J. A. Dudder over a wheat deal was begun yesterday and will likely consume a good portion of to-day.

Several Commonwealth cases are set for Saturday.

ALL who owe me are urged to pay their accounts by July 1, as I am compelled to have the money. Mr. A. A. McKinney.

FIVE.—Jailer DeBord is experiencing a dull time like the rest of us. He has only five prisoners, with poor prospects for increasing the number.

THE banks and the postoffice will observe the 4th of July, Monday, as the "glorious" falls on Sunday. The former will be closed while the latter will be open only the Sunday hours.

THE semi-annual settling time is now at hand and I trust all those who owe me will call and settle. Please do not wait for me to dun you, but come up like a man and settle. H. C. Rupley.

HALL'S circus is going to give Stanford the go by, but those of our people who are anxious to see it can do so by going to Mt. Vernon, July 9, or Middletown the day following, or both places if they like.

AN I. J. PEN - PUSHER FOR A WEEK IN CASEY AND RUSSELL.

Not that all will be interested in this do I hand in the following, but that some may be and that the curiosity of others may be aroused, do I write this.

The most impressive feature along the route is that there is one free toll gate from Dix River to Green River. The free turnpike craze is not running at such heat down there as in the Blue Grass regions. There is some talk of voting on the question in Casey this Fall, but as such a very small portion of the county has any pikes compared with the large portion which will, if made free, have to be taxed to keep up pikes in which they have no interest, that it is thought the county will be largely against the "free for all system." If there is a county in the State which can afford to build gravel roads and turn them over to the public, it is Casey. Miles after miles of her roads wind along by gravel beds 60 yards broad and the depth of which no one knows. These beautiful gravel beds just seem to invite the crush of wheels and tread of animals of passers by. The sick man would almost be made well as he glides over the smooth surface through the cool shades and breathes the pure mountain air traveling over such delightful roads.

As for the roads in Russell, they are all free, for as yet not a foot of pike has ever disturbed the sand of Summer or the mud of Winter in that old home-like country.

A telephone line threads the country from Turnersville to Dunnville via Middleburg, Liberty and Phil, a distance of about 40 miles. There is also a line being put up from Dunnville via Russell Springs to Cumberland River, taking in Jamestown, the capital of Russell.

So soon as Stanford gets her exchange in operation the people of Hubble can interchange ideas on silver and sound money and on Winter, crops of water melons, hemp and tobacco with the people along the Cumberland River.

The crops are good for that class of land. Meadows are fitly and many have been cut early on account of the cheat. The small patches of corn and wheat will yield more than one would suspect, as both sides of most of that land can be cultivated the same year. The farmers know just how much stock their little crops will feed, what size to build their cribs and granaries and how to compare incomes and expenditures, consequently they are not suffering the pangs of hard times as we are, where it is customary to spend $5 even though our income is only $2.50, therefore contentment and ease is written on the foreheads of all you meet and free silver and sound money are strangers in conversation.

The timber is by no means exhausted yet and trains of lumber wagons are met steering their loads to some distant railroad station and the many old camping grounds along the roads used by those men and teams as familiar as they were 17 years ago. The white oak and poplar have all disappeared and now they are selling their chestnut at $1 and black oak at 65¢ per tree, for all that are more than 28 inches in diameter. When the passer-by meets a train of those wagons hauling logs that one can not look over when lying on the ground, and his ears are thrilled with the hiss of scorpions and ring of cow bells and the hum of saw mills, he is led to wonder where he is and what it all means, but when he hears the merry songs of hands and sees the smiling faces of women and children and takes a few meals with them under the shade of their yard trees, and gets up feeling like he had been there, receiving a hearty welcome and asked to come again, then it is revealed to him that he is in the mountains of industry, peace and plenty.

Yosemite, once the terminus of the Green River R. R., has been plowed up to a considerable extent and put in cultivation since the removal of the R. R. The old depot is now occupied by Mrs. Bettie Lawhorn for store and postoffice. There are three stores and two hotels in the town and all seem to be doing a good business.

Phil, a nice little village situated at the mouth of South and Trace Forks, on the pike, is all life on account of its location, being the fording point for all the timber from the hills that loom up around. John Gadberry and F. P. Combest have good general stores there and are getting rich. Dr. Jos. Honey is practicing there and has amassed a large amount of this world's goods.

Dunnville is not so lively as it was some years ago, as many of its business houses are now empty that once were running wide open. The land around it is very fertile and gives a profitable support to three good stores at present. Some of the land on the river near there has lately changed hands at $105 per acre by the farm. This speaks well for the farming land on the river, but the hill country around is not so good.

Uncle Frank Chelf is still running the hotel there, making his customers feel at home, as he always has plenty to eat and some new side-splitting yarns to spin out to them. Dr. Hammonds & Son, on account of the unhealthy river location, are seldom permitted to take their meals at home.

Five or six new churches have been built along the road in the last few months through the efforts of Elder J. Q. Montgomery, formerly of this country.

Scarcely a home do you visit that you don't see the INTERIOR JOURNAL. While all claim that times are hard to spend so much for a county paper, yet they say $2 for the I. J. often saves them $50 in keeping them posted on the sales of stock and farm products, as no other paper in the State does. Your business manager, Ed Walton, is better known through that country than the Standard Oil wagon is in this community.

I close this partial glimpse, leaving out many of the interesting things and circumstances met with, on account of time and space, but hand out instead an abundance of good will and best wishes to such a proud-hearted people.

J. A. H.

MORELAND.

Mr. Stephen Hunt, the restaurant man, is absent in Casey on a business trip.

A petition is being circulated and finding numerous signers, calling for a new election upon the free turnpike question.

Miss Helen Land Baker, of Jessamine county, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. J. C. Neal, near here. Mr. A. Farris, of Wilmore, is here this week, looking after his tobacco interests in this county. Mr. John F. Greene, of Springfield, was here the latter part of the week, called here by the serious illness of the late Mrs. M. M. Sandidge.

Since our last letter to the I. J. numerous have been the inquiries as to who was the correspondent at this place. Rest assured, dear reader, all reports from this place will be based upon reliable information, and nothing suppressed that will be of interest to the reading public. Any news will be thankfully received if handed in by Tuesday of each week.

There is some talk of getting up a fair by parties from Hustonville and this place. The location of the grounds is upon the farm of Hon. B. B. King, which is a shady grove convenient to the turnpike, depot, etc., and the one-half mile track of McAlister Bros., is in first-class condition and adjoining the grove. We see no reason why stock in the above should not pay a good per cent. and genuine old-fashioned fair be held. Hustonville, being in two miles of the grounds, promises ample hotel accommodations and a hearty co-operation. Talk up the fair.

NIAGARA FALLS.

The excursion season to the North opens this year with much promise. The Niagara Falls season will be inaugurated with an excursion at rates lower than have ever before been made from all points on Q. & C. Route, Thursday, July 8th. This excursion will be run via Cincinnati, C. H. & D. Ry. to Toledo and Mich. Cent. via Detroit to Niagara Falls, the world's wonder. Special trains of the first class coaches and Pullman sleepers will leave Cincinnati at noon, July 8th, and tickets from Q. & C. points will be on sale for trains that make the connection, good until July 14th to return. This is one of the most completely popular trips known to the American public and Niagara is visited by thousands of Americans every year. The present opportunity is an unusual one and you should see your Q. & C. agent or address the undersigned for space at earliest possible date. The rate from Junction City will be $10.50 for the round trip. Chas. W. Zell, D. P. A., Fourth and Race Streets, Cincinnati. W. C. Rinearson, gen'l pass'n'tg., Cincinnati, O.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR.

Years ago there lived in a Massachusetts town a justice of the peace known as "Square" Simmonds, a man noted for the shortness of his memory. He carried about with him a slip of paper on which was written the brief marriage form which he used when called upon to unite a pair in the bonds of matrimony. He never trusted himself to begin the ceremony without reference to this document.

One day at a county fair in a neighboring town he was approached by an elderly couple, who expressed their wish to be married then and there. After some conversation the "square" agreed to perform the ceremony on the spot, and the three, accompanied by a grown up daughter of the man and a sister of the prospective bride, stepped into a convenient horse shed.

There the "square" began a fruitless search for the important paper, growing more and more perturbed as each succeeding pocket played him false. At last he abandoned the search.

"Are you willing to marry this woman?" he asked the man, who replied with a prompt "Yes."

"And you want to marry him?" asked the justice, turning to the bride.

"I do," said she with promptness equal to the bridegroom's.

"Then," said the "square" in his most impressive tone, "I hereby pronounce you married, according to the memorandum left at home in my other trouser pocket." —Youth's Companion.

An Achievement Explained.

He is a little curly haired, rosy cheeked member of a boy choir. He had been having some trouble with a high note, but on this occasion sang it out with a clearness and vigor which surprised and delighted all his family.

"That was splendid," said the leader of the choir. "You have been taking my advice and practicing."

"No, I haven't practiced it."

"I don't understand how else you accomplished it."

"Well, I'll tell you. Just before I came to that note I shut my eyes and made believe I was at a ball game and saw Cartwright steal a base." —Washington Star.

Professional Etiquette.

"Listen," he hissed.

"No," she answered. And turning upon her heel busily, she left him there alone.
